MAJORITY AGAINST PROPOSED HMO BAN

Hope Street, just off the town centre.

- PUBLIC consultation over Fife Council's proposed ban on further HMOs in St Andrews town centre has now finished.
- The issue of Houses in Multiple Occupancy has been the subject of fierce debate in the town, and the outcome makes interesting reading - of 128 responses posted on the council's website, the vast majority oppose any such ban.
- St Andrews Students' Association, which has spoken out strongly against the initiative, is now considering fielding a candidate at next year's local government elections to have its voice heard.
- Meanwhile, members of St Andrews Community Council have given their backing to the principle of an HMO ban.
- Full story on page three.

It's so simple!

THANKS to a certain television advert, meerkats have entered the national consciousness and now can be seen at the St Andrews Aquarium. To celebrate their arrival, the aquarium has released

100 cuddly meerkats for the public to find in some of Scotland's most iconic locations, including the two pictured above on the Old Course. As Aleksander Orlov would say, "simples!"
